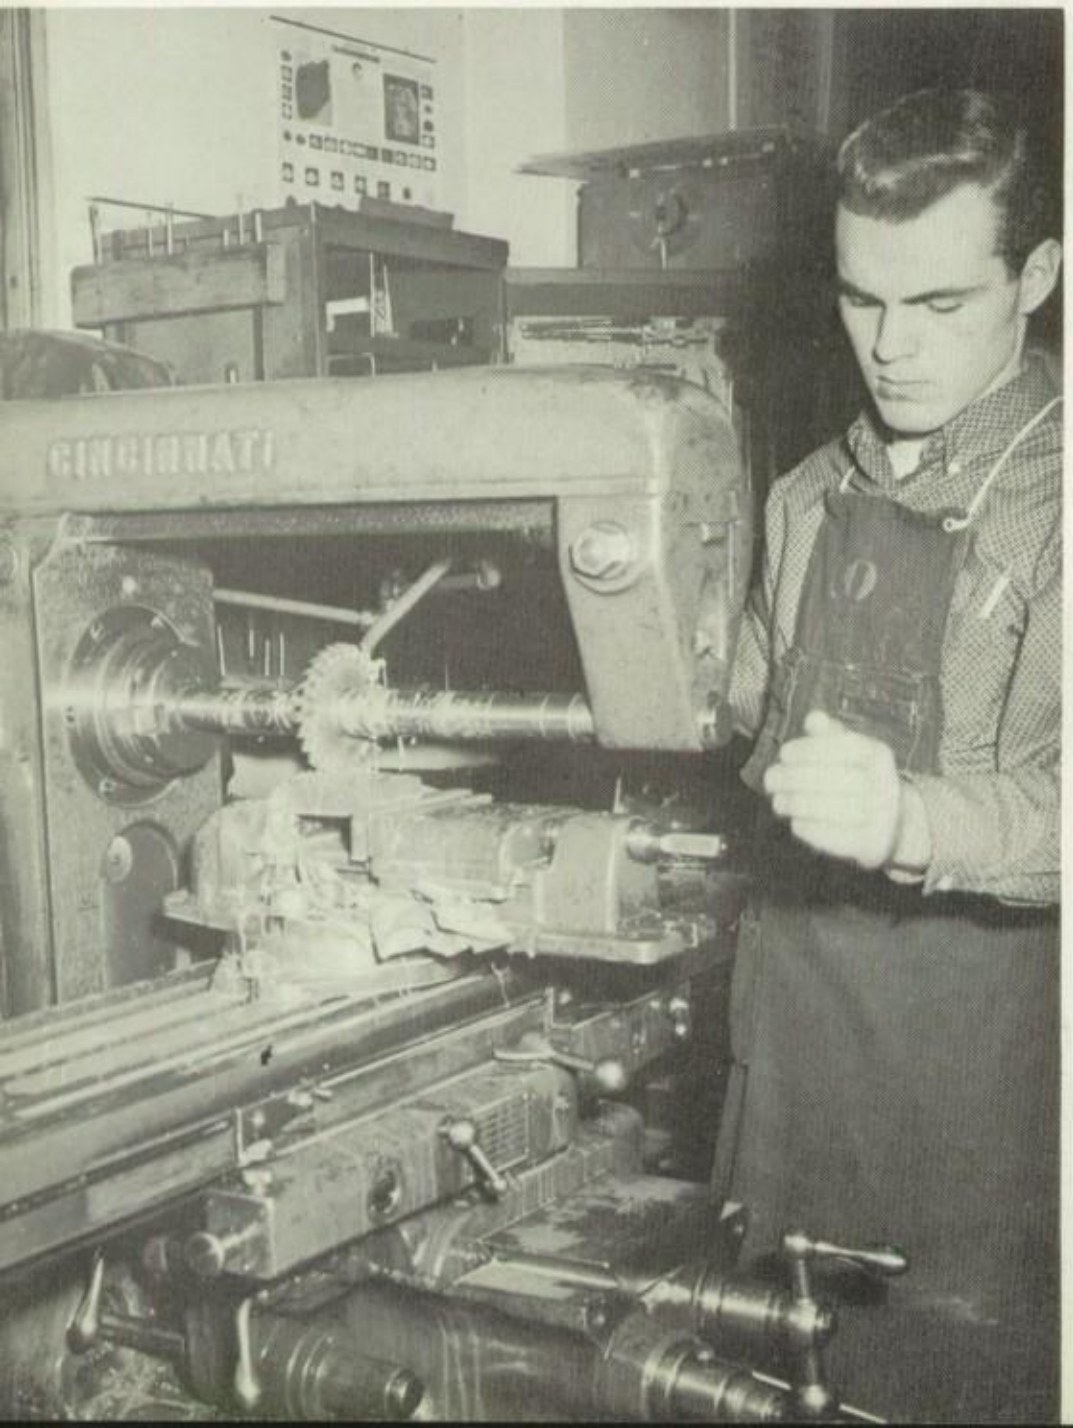
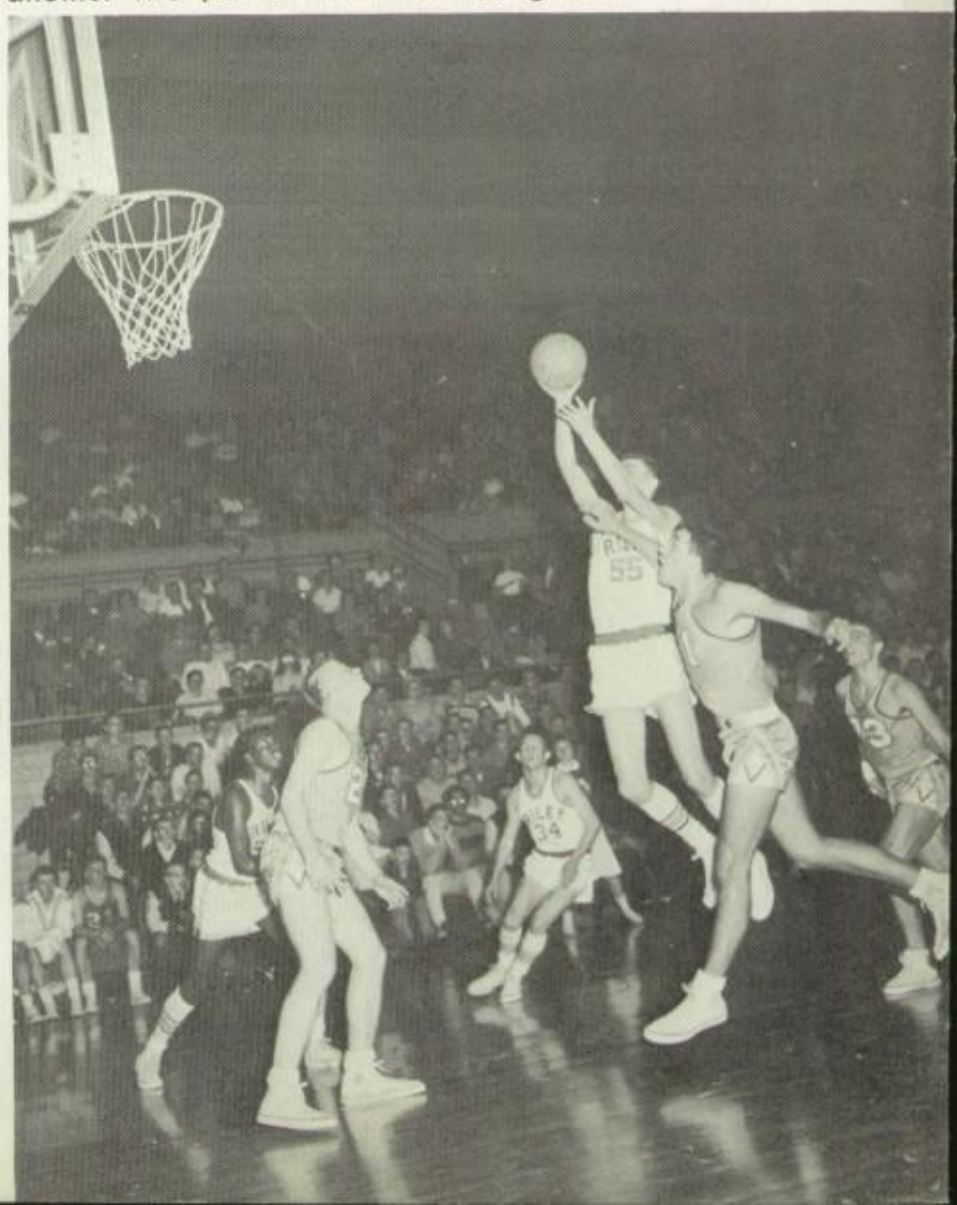
We built a fancy float to carry our Queen and her court to the Riley-Washington Football Round-up.

There Was Much To Do In '60. . . . .

And classes to attend, whether it was machines to master, problems to solve, themes to write, dresses to make, or songs to sing.



There were games to see, to cheer at the action, as we did when Bob Davidson set himself up for another two points in the St. Joe game.



To parade while thousands watched at the Miami Street Businessmen's event before our opening football game.

. . And We Did It!

There were plays to produce, to look at and enjoy. Kaylyn, Phyllis, and Elsie thrilled us in "The Women Have Their Way".

Or making sure our foreign exchange students were indoctrinated in an important phase of American high school life.

And This Is Where We Did It.

Now Take A Look

Diane, Candy, Susan and Nancy had the whole school in an uproar during the Hoosier Poet sales assemblies. The girls gave a take-off on today's T.V. commercials.

Riley's Bowling League has made fine progress since organization two years ago. Seated: Left to right: President, Ron Fritz, Secretary, Dick Remenich. Standing: Vice-President, Dave Biddle and Publicity Chairman, Robert Bargmeyer. Remenich holds one of the highest averages in the league.

At What We Did.

Hey, Nan, which are you better at . . . painting shirts or making pottery? Too bad the cameraman obscured your pretty eyes.

"Only 5 cents!!" was the cry of Bob and Yvonne as they sold football programs to boost the Senior class treasury.

Spreading Christmas spirit, the Library Club adds the finishing touches to their traditional holiday tree.

It took twenty to tango. . . at least the way they did it at the senior dance, "South of the Border."

A big moment for senior, Phylis Pletcher, with the signing of her name, she became an official member of the National Honor Society.

ASSIGNMENTS AND ACTIVITIES

"Chee-e-e-se" is our quotable quote from Fay Hammond as the photographer snaps her picture for the yearbook.

Below, a festive holiday mood is evident in Commercial Art class as Linda Smith and Janet Sailor create Christmas posters for the Miami Street businessmen's windows.

In the 6th hour open-air pep assembly, cheerleaders Peg and Carol radiate enthusiasm as the Riley student body cheers them on.

MAKE UP A BUSY SCHEDULE

A brief moment of relaxation for "B" lunch students as they await the doors to open for their afternoon classes.

A lot of fun, a lot of fret, put them together and what do you get? The decorating committee for last year's Junior Prom, "At the End of the Rainbow", which includes, Yvonne Nevelle, Peg Dueringer, Pat Nemeth, Sheryl Royer, and Vilma Lovisa.

These twenty-two sophomore girls got Scarlet Ribbons in their hair before they finished decorating the gym for their annual dance.

If we Couldn't do it Ourselves

Mrs. Charles Welch, the former Miss Fyfe, our attractive art teacher, receives a faculty wedding gift from Mrs. Meyers of the English Department. Best wishes Mrs. Welch!

Judy Chambliss and Bill Nelson anticipate an evening of pleasure before leaving for the All-City Prom.

we had Plenty of Help from Others.

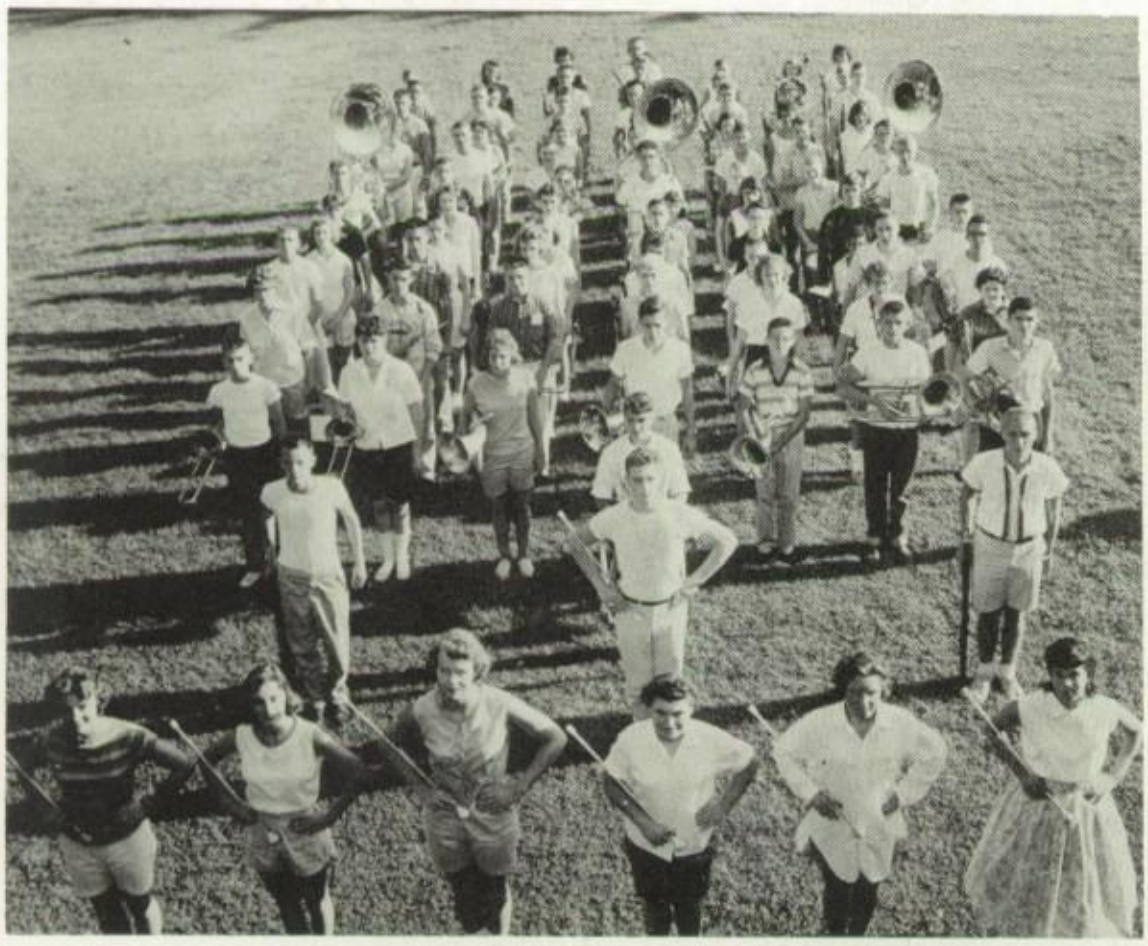
Left: The Ball State College gymnastic team shows an intricate routine on the parallel bars during their exhibition to our physical education classes.

College night arranged by Mr. Barack in the Riley auditorium proved to be both interesting and informative for parents of senior students. Over 100 of them attended.

Truly having a ball, couples at last year's Junior Prom join hands and form arches, following a tradition set long ago at one of the first Junior Proms.

THERE'S MUSIC



Guys and gals showed up in shorts the first practice session of Riley's marching band. They were getting ready for their annual trip to Riverview Park in Chicago.

Cheers arose when Drum Major, Charles Shultz, brought the band into view to start the annual football parade.

IN THE AIR

Dashing thru the snow this merry foursome enjoy themselves during a make-believe ride at the Christmas assembly. In the sleigh are: Standing: Barry Aarson, Pam Collier. Sitting: Bob Kletka, Pam Turner.

Many admiring glances fell with approval upon Bente Huitfeldt's native costume, which she wore to the annual French Club dinner.

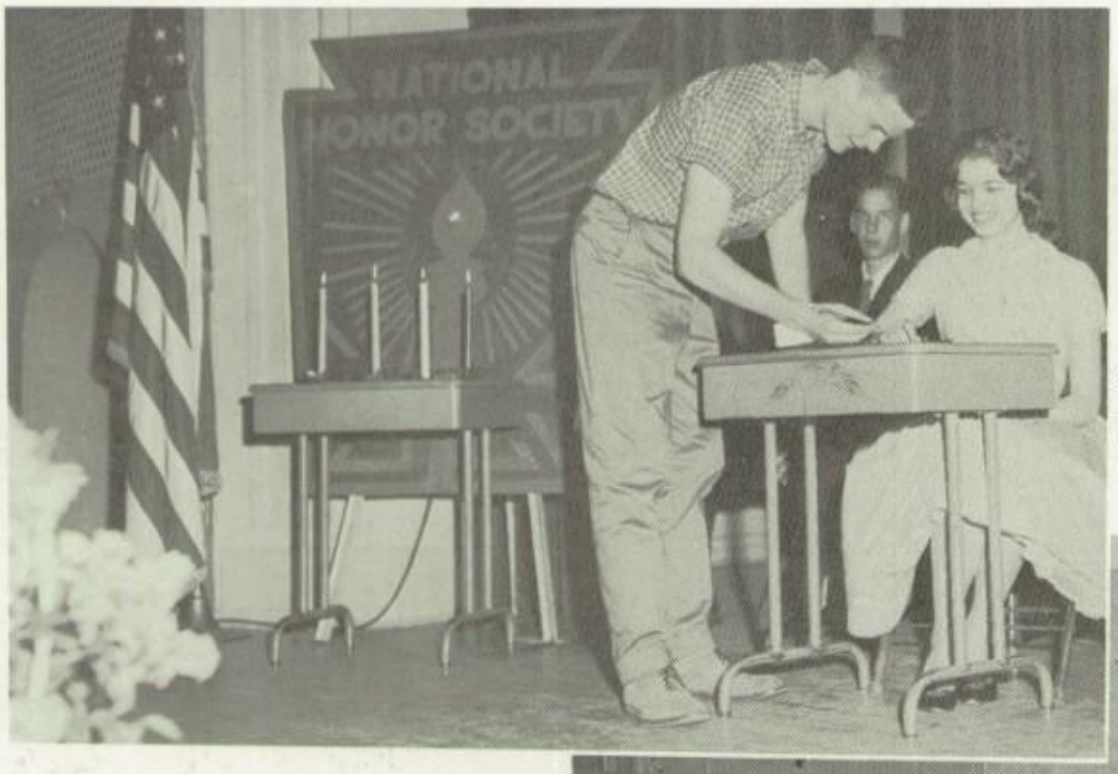
RILEYITES WERE HONORED



Senior class president, Bill Nelson, adds his name to the list of juniors inducted last spring by the National Honor Society.

Wrestling Queen, Sally Berebitsky and her attendants, Carol Barnfield and Peg Dueringer, hold places of honor at the Holiday Wrestling Tournament. Sally presents a first prize ribbon to smiling Art Floran. The girls were selected for selling the most tickets to the tournament.

The Seniors Class Day Assembly is a climactic point of high school life. Mr. Ogden, Assistant Principal, is giving out attendance awards while Mr. Byers, Mr. Pate, and other faculty members watch.

IN MANY, MANY WAYS

Thirteen girls and a boy may be a strange combination, but their value to the smooth running of our office is common knowledge to all of us. They run the switchboard, type reports, direct visitors, and run errands. From left to right, Standing: Phyllis Rousch, Marylyn Wonish, Theresa Barani, Sharon Hoke, Jeffra Wright, Don Luther, Linda Miller, Diana Werner, Judy Quade, Sondra Fackson, Jill Crothers. Seated: Judy Powell, Carol Mikel, Diane Hoffman.

There's never a dull moment at our basketball games after these girls get going. Organized several years ago by Miss Lauer, Riley's Cheer Block has attracted much attention in the conference for their cheering ability.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society has been active at Riley since it was reactivated in the spring of 1957. This society plays an important part in student life. The qualifications for admission are Citizenship, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service.

IT'S REIGNING

Riley's Yvonne Nevelle and Washington's JoAnn Bobelenyi exchange boquets at half time of the Riley-Panther football game. Each girl was selected by her school to reign as Queens at both the football roundup and the game.

The Sophomores elected Mary Lou Schille and Dave Simmons as the reigning couple at their "Scarlet Ribbons" Dance.

Basketball Queen, Ellen Van De Walle and her escort, Bill Collins proudly leave the floor after the cornation excercise.

Riley was proud when one of our Seniors, Karol Lindenman was chosen Queen of the St. Joseph's county 4-H Fair. Karol, and her escort are being congratulate by Lt. Governor, Crawford F. Parker.

'CATS AND CROWNS

Queens, Sandy Weaver of Adams and our own Ellen Van de Walle, turn on big smiles after they were crowned Queens of the Riley-Adams basketball game. Each was selected by ballot in her own school.

Sally Berebitsky proudly wears her orchid as Queen of the Holiday wrestling tournament. Carol Barnfield and Peg Dueringer composed her court. The girls were selected because of their outstanding work in promoting the tournament.

The Staff

Director of Drama.

The Junior High Dramatics Class thrilled the Junior High with their production "The Mikado."

This scene, "Glory to God" was from the Christmas Pageant. Staged by the Drama and Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Cassady and Miss Guilliams, it was acclaimed by critics as one of the finest ever given on the Riley stage.

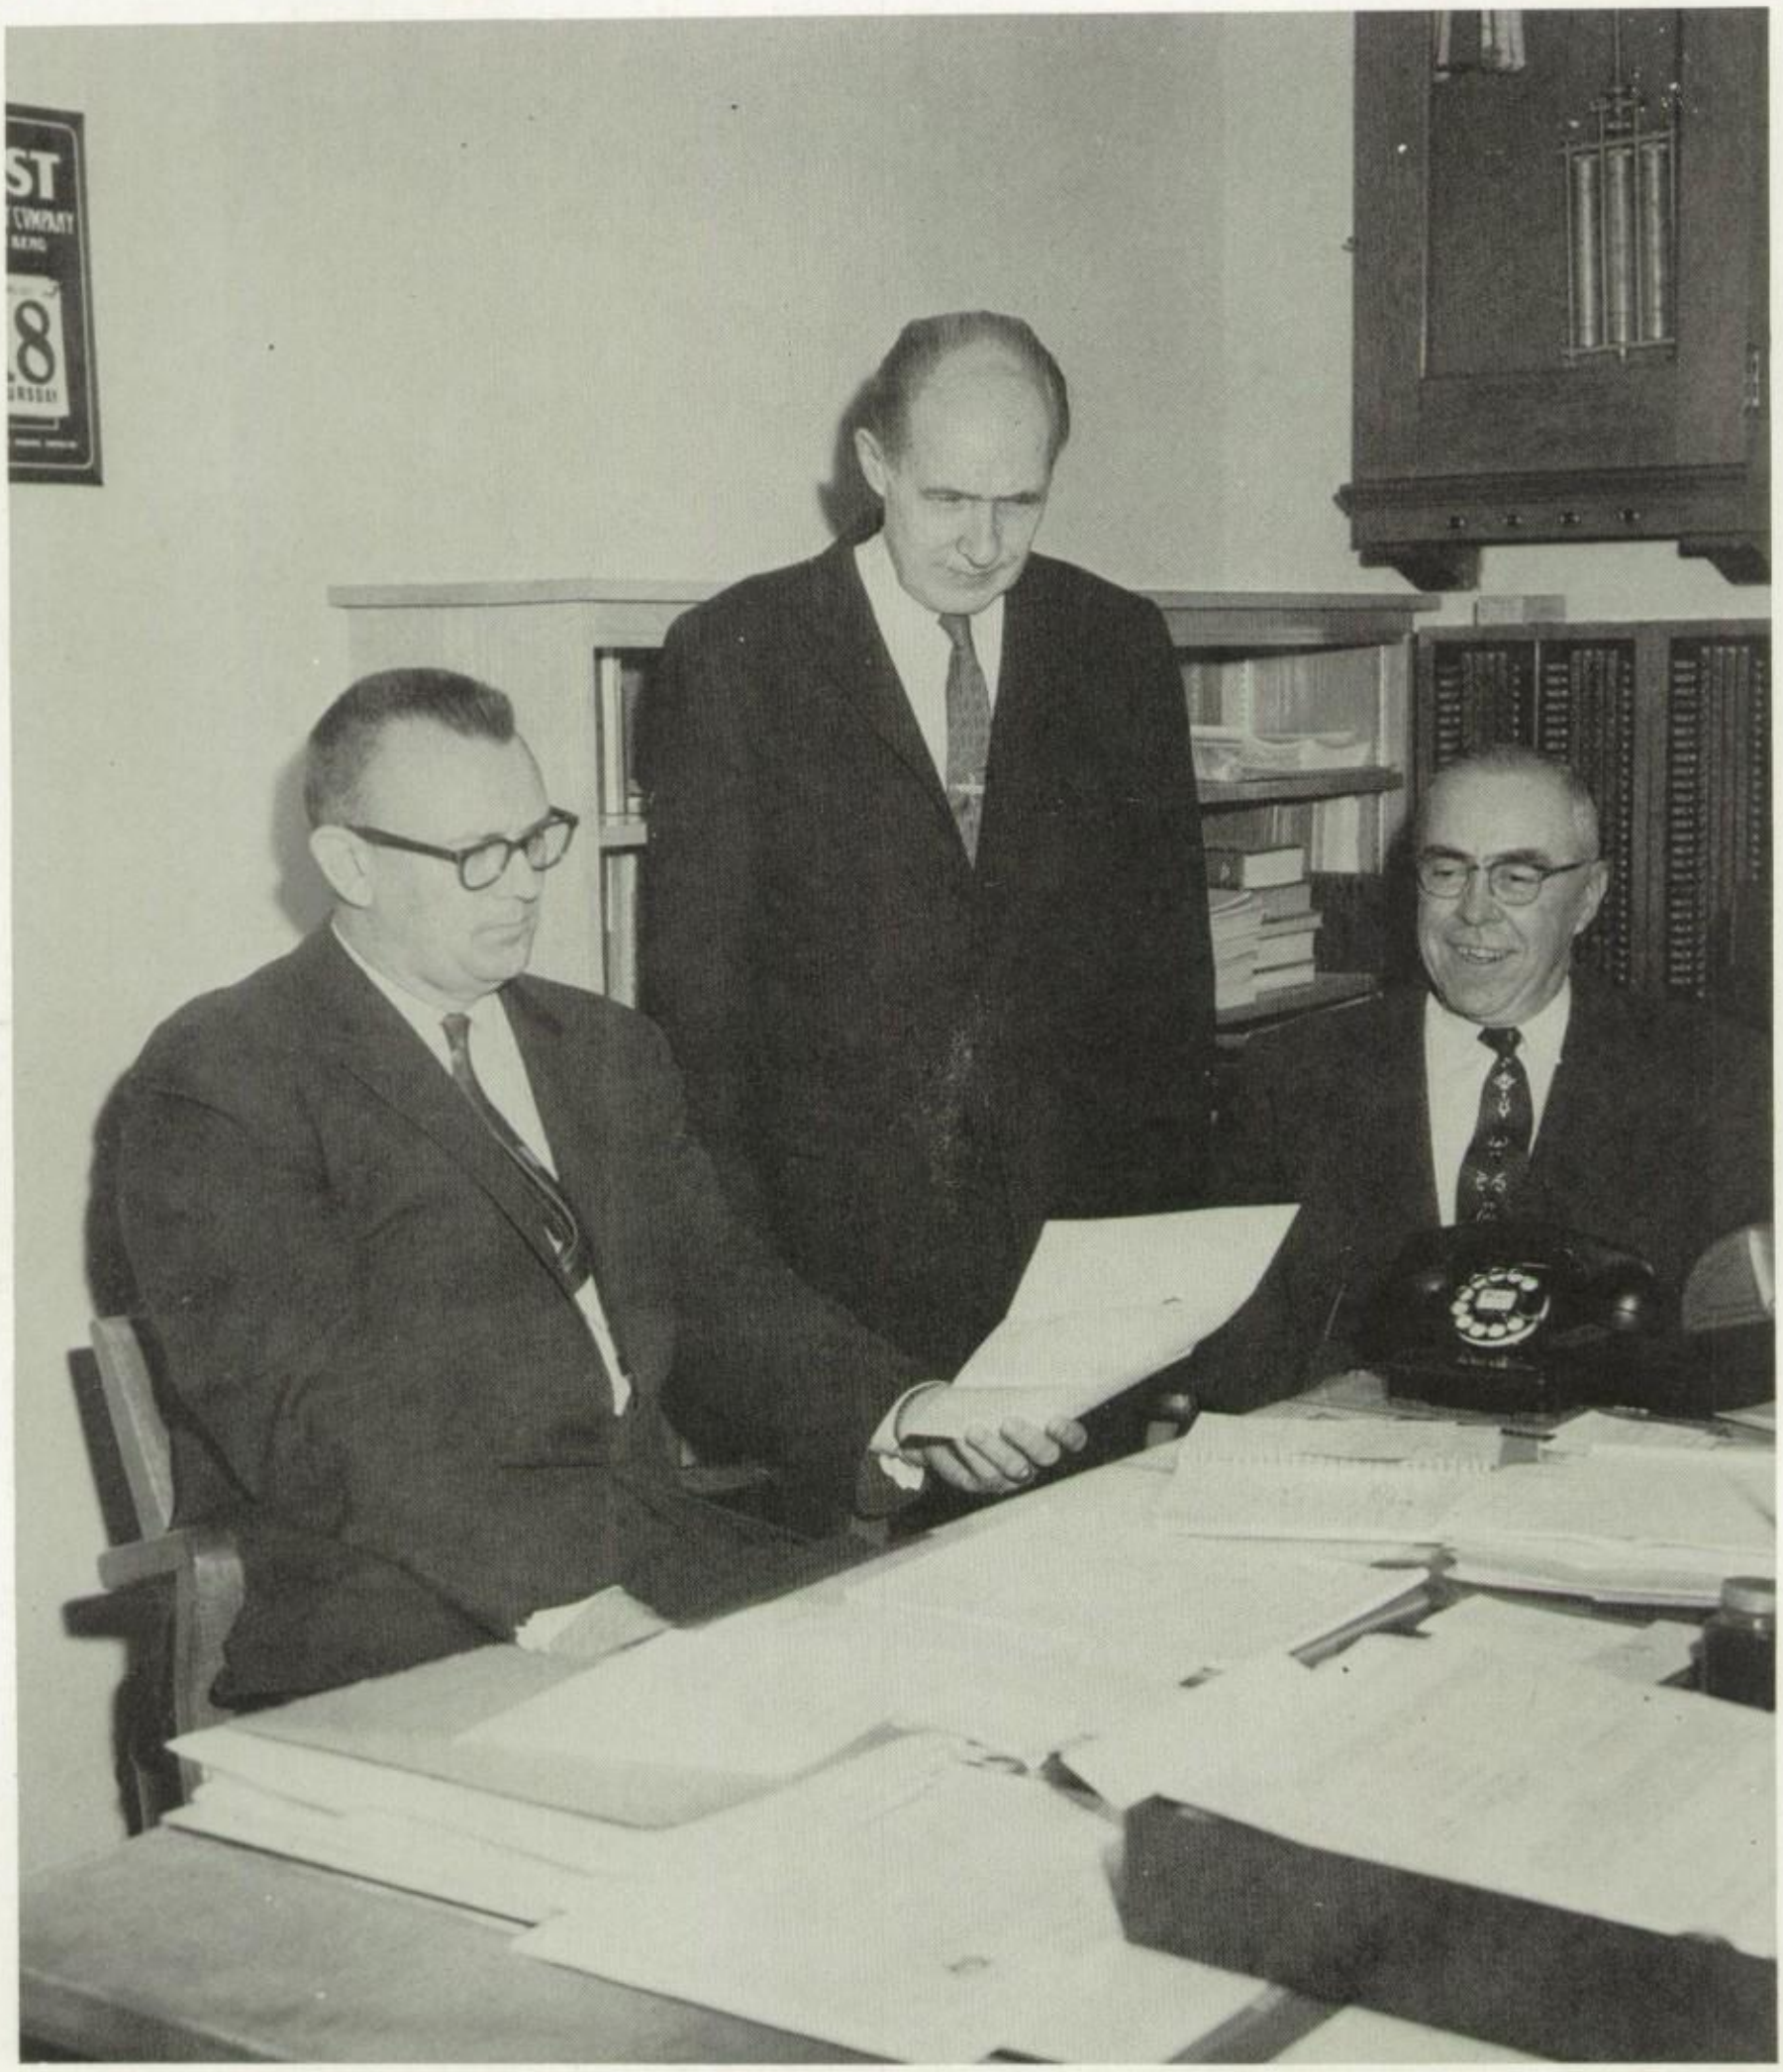
Administration



It is not uncommon for our Principal, Mr. Byers to hold a conference with his two top administrative assistants. In the center is Mr. H. H. Ogden, Assistant Principal. At the right is Mr. Lawrence T. Pate, Head Counselor.

One of the most difficult jobs of all is arranging students programs. Our counselors seem to enjoy it. Mr. Rhodes, Mr. Pate, Mr. Barrack and Mrs. Cassiday. Mr. Pate is Department Head.

Our Guiding Light

Rana Smith finds it fun to have Mrs. Cassiday help her choose subjects for the new semester.

"How much math do I need to get into engineering school?" "Can I take English II if I flunked English I?" "What subjects do I need to take to get into Nurses' Training?" These and a thousand more are the kinds of questions answered every day by the Guidance Counselors. As the title implies, their function is both to counsel and guide students through high school and help them plan their careers beyond high school. Additional duties involve giving all kinds of tests, consulting with both parents and teachers about students, and assisting students to adjust to the manifold problems and situations, of high school.

In order to avoid serious mistakes and loss of opportunity, students need the careful and intelligent guidance of counselors who are specially trained to give this help. This specialized help is given in two ways; through discussion under the direction of the counselor, and through individual conferences.

The staff of the English Department. Standing: Mr. Gearhart, Mr. Lewandowski, Mr. Krider, Mr. Goodman, Mr. Bilby. Sitting: Mrs. Rhodes, Miss Ballard, Mrs. Bohan, Miss Steele, Mrs. Myers, Miss Norcowich, and Mrs. Doherty. Miss Steele is Head of the Department.

The A.B.C. Department

Mr. Krider's English pupils all want to take part in the discussion. Too bad they can't all answer at once.

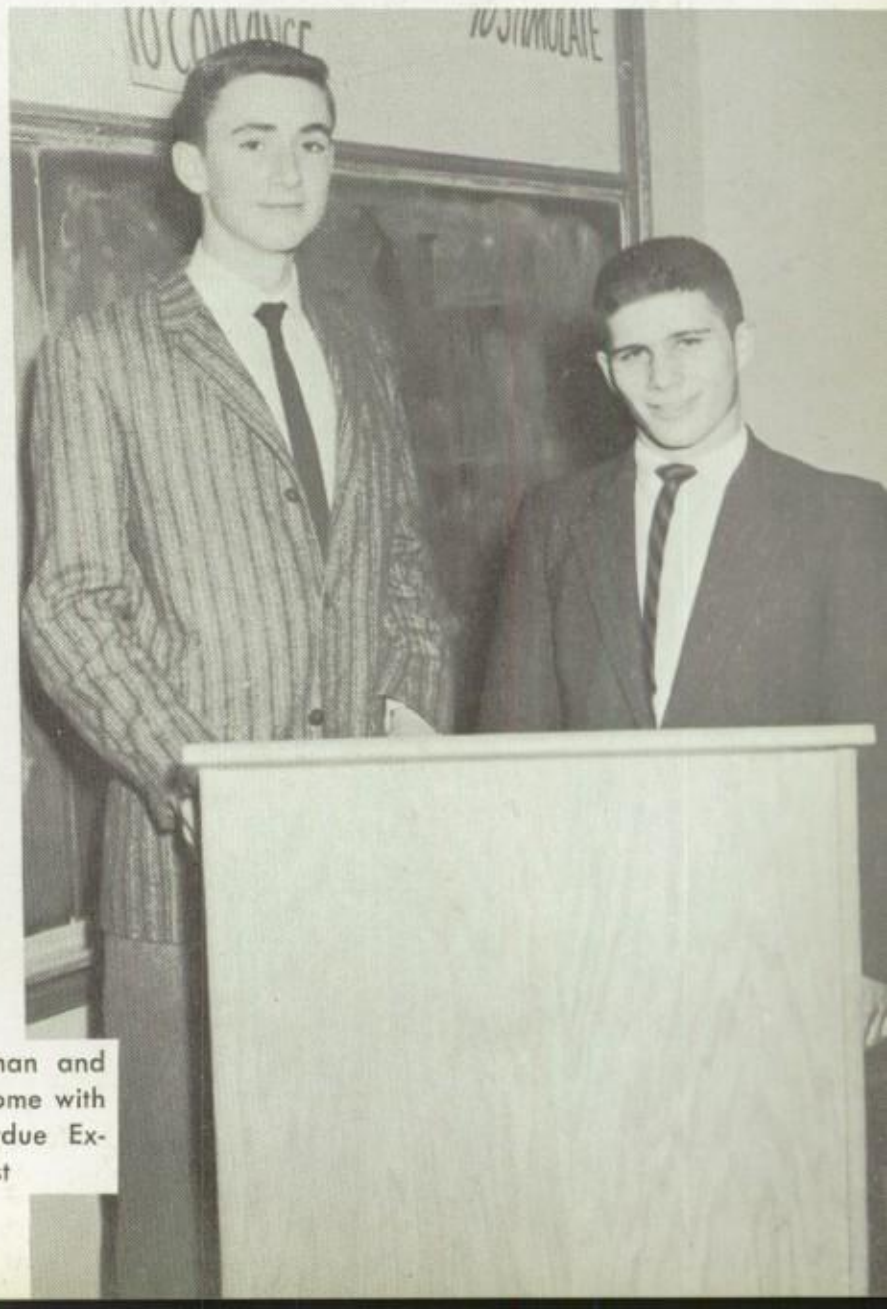
Years ago it was readin', writin' and 'rithmetic. Today it is still readin' and more readin'. Although you may think the aim of those in this department is to make you struggle through the mysteries of the participle and verb, their chief ambition is to teach you how to read, what to read, and how to write.

We have come to know that since we rub shoulders with people at work and in the community, a solid background in English is a prerequisite to happiness and well-being. Without some knowledge of what the best minds of all time have to put into print, and without a reasonably good command of English as a means of communication we are not educated for happiness or for success in the exciting business of making a living.

The squad listens to Ron Fritz point out the main arguments in a coming debate. Sitting: Dave Fleming, Bob Lerman, Richard Remenih, Dave Rodibaugh. Standing: Bill Wead, Gordon Nolle, Bruce BonDurant, Spencer Clark, and Allen Singleton.

Miss Steele explains to Carol Huber, Donna Madick, and John Hoover the results of a speech improvement recording made in one of her classes.

"This isn't as bad as I thought it would be!" reflects Carol Huber as her voice is recorded in Miss Steele's Speech Class. Donna Madick and John Hoover look on anticipating their turns.



Riley was proud of Bob Lerman and Bruce BonDurant, who came home with first place honors in the Purdue Extemperaneous Speaking Contest

The Figures' The Thing

Our two art teachers, Mrs. Welch and Miss Day, take pride observing the work done in their classes.

The Art Department gives to students an opportunity to develop an awareness of beauty wherever it is found—in nature, at school, in the home, the community, and in the work of artists and craftsmen.

This Department tries to develop a recognition and appreciation of the art heritage of students, and to help them gain a knowledge of art terms and established art principles.
Many students are helped to develop acceptable standards of taste in art in order that they may be intelligent consumers in the selection and arrangement of objects used in everyday living.

It is common for these teachers to discover the student who has special abilities and aptitude in art, and to give him that added encouragement and experience which will aid him in developing his talent to the fullest.

Lastly, this Department provides a means for self-realization and individual expression, both for recreational purposes and as a basis for the continuation of growth in art as preparation for a vocation.

Judy Bullinger is engrossed glazing her vase in Ceramics I Class.

George Wilmath and Denny Craw make paper mache' figures in the commercial art class for their own personal enjoyment.

There are many reasons for including a second language in your course of study. The world has become travel conscious and rapid transportation has brought all countries within close reach of each other. You not only enjoy a trip more if you know the language of a country you visit, but it aids you in becoming an ambassador of good will.

Another reason for learning a second language is the military involvement of the United States in countries all around the globe. When boys are assigned to military service, knowledge of another language will aid in their placement, or help in their adjustment to conditions they meet. The great increase in world trade calls for persons who have developed a reasonable proficiency in another language.

The study of a language includes the study of the geography of a country, its history, and the customs of the people.

Learning a new language involves study and hard work, but the rewards are great in personal enjoyment and profit.

Language teachers Miss Noble and Mrs. Brokaw are looking at the route Miss Kiel took this summer on her trip to France.

Language Talks The World Around

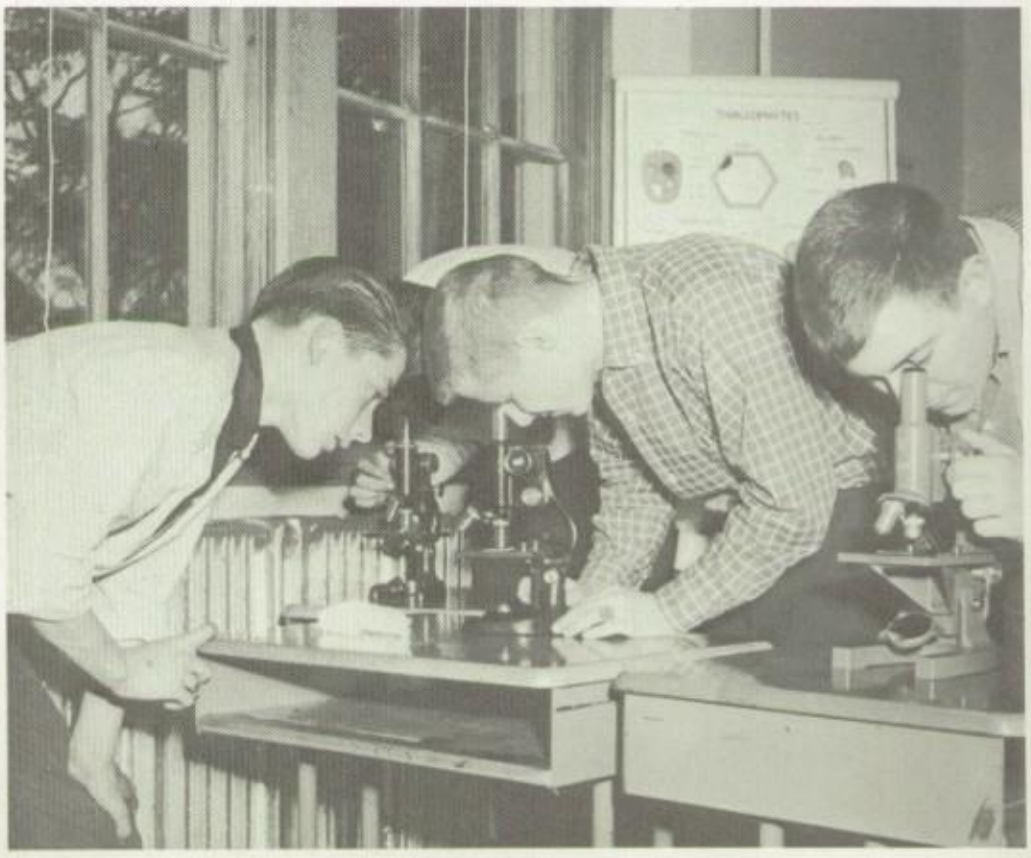
Steve Lester, dressed in Roman costume, is showing Dorothy Roberts a model of Greek Parthenon.

As Becky Uhrig plays the piano her fellow Spanish students Barb Green, Charlene Smith, Davine Preger, and Evelyn Skaret join in singing a Mexican Christmas carol.

Gary Marvel, Mike Izdepski, Uve Waizenegger, and Maria Merlo seem of one mind. They hope their experiment in water electrolysis turns out successful.

Count Down 5 4 3

Davine Preger and Lois Brenner only appear scared in studying bird specimens. They know the birds are stuffed.



In Biology I Class Leroy Anders, Ralph Takach, Chuck Cook, and Bob Kroft are amazed at the behavior of the Ameoba.

In Mr. Clayton's physics class Joyce Kopecki, Barton Brugh, Dave Bintinger and Eugene Cripe are measuring the intensity of light.

"This is an affair of the heart," Joe Northern explains to Jim Clark, Jack Robeson, Carol Thompson and Marie Odush.

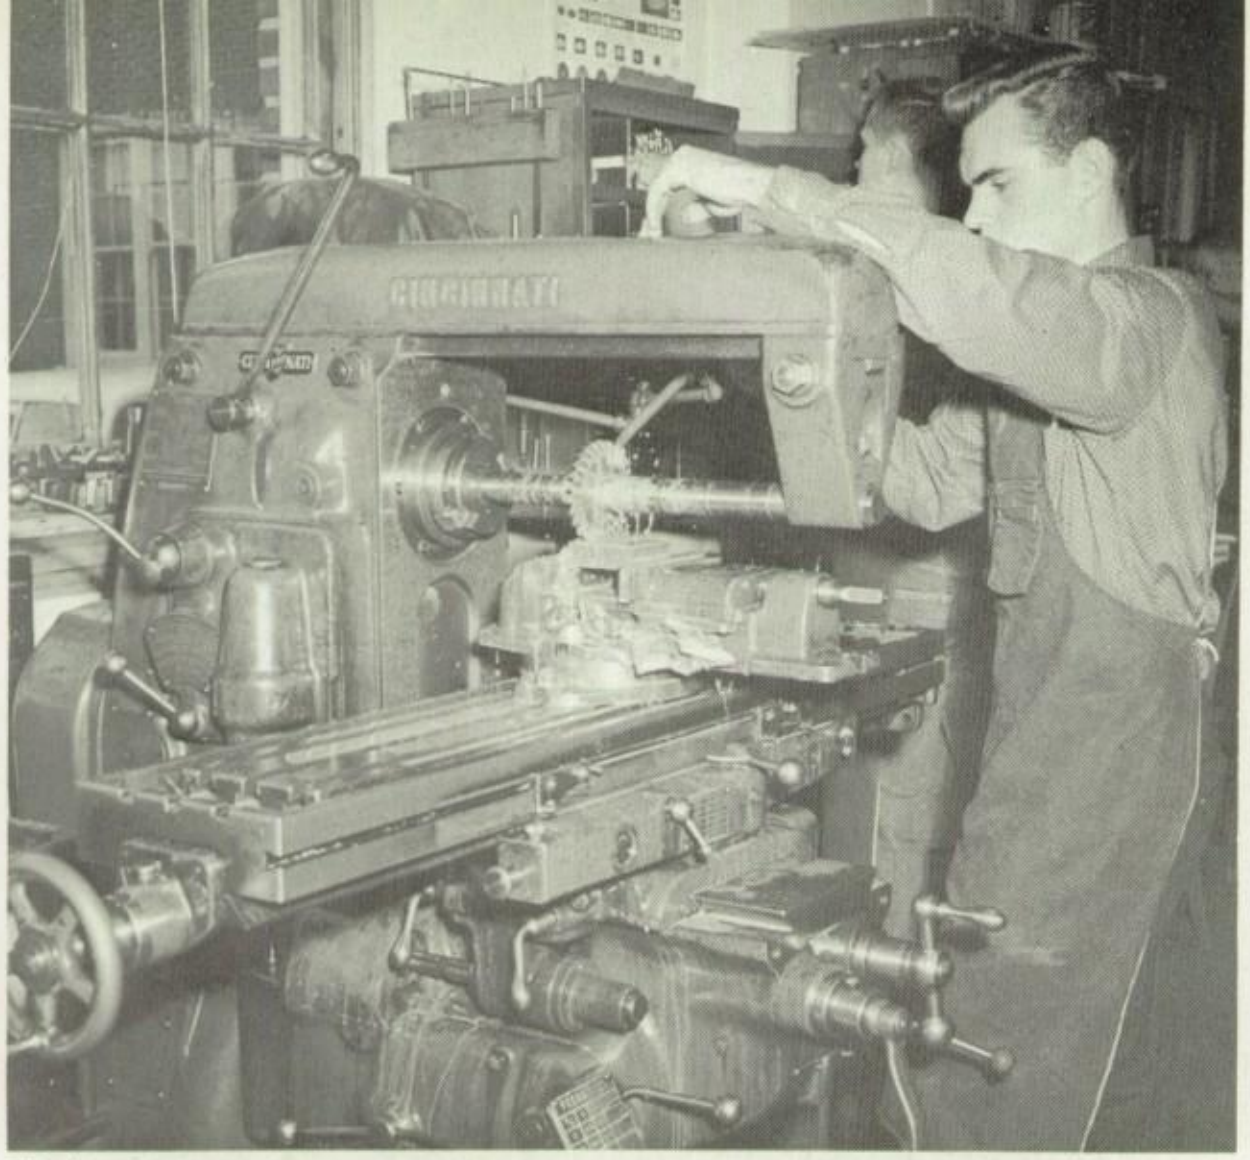
210 . . . Pop

The program of studies in science has been developed over the years to serve both the terminal as well as the advanced student.

The basic philosophy in the science curriculum at Riley, is to reveal to the student the wonders of the universe, both animate and inanimate. It teaches a student to develop the habit of critical examination of data and an understanding of the limitations of such data.

The Riley Science student must spell correctly, express himself clearly in both speech and writing, be orderly in work and thinking, and realize that the laboratory is the place to sharpen his eye, to withhold judgment, and to examine data critically.

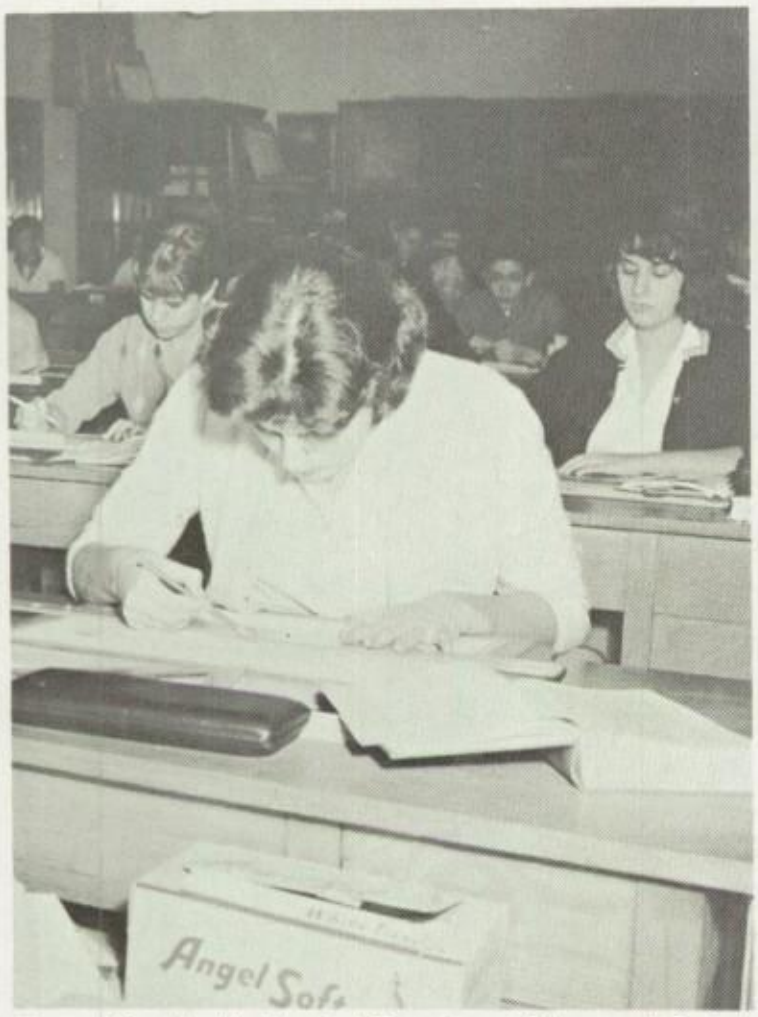
Mr. Smith shows the Science Faculty how a Geiger counter detects the radioactivity of isotopes. Left to right: Mr. Wiatrowski, Department Head, Mr. Parker, Mr. Frazier, Mr. Sarenac, Mr. Clayton, and Mr. Barnbrook.



This big Cincinnati is no easy machine to master, but Bob Skelton seems to be making the milling machine do what he wants it to do.

Master Craftsmen

Mr. Morris, of the Industrial Arts Department demonstrates the use of a circular saw to the other members. Left to right: Mr. Konrath, Mr. Webb, Mr. Shafer, Department Head.



Even girls take Mechanical Drawing at Riley, and Gretchen Dose seems intensely interested in her drawing.

Lance Greider and Gene Pulliam are putting the finishing touches on their projects in Woodworking shop.

In The Making

Be on your toes, girls! If a few years from now a boy who graduated from this department "pops the question" he should have all the furniture made, blue-print of the new home in his pocket and the invitations printed and ready to mail. Later, a lathe and work-shop in the basement will repair any home appliance that needs it.

That's how thoroughly this department covers the ground. Seriously, here is a department that accomplishes great things. Many a boy has found his vocation in life from the hours spent in vocational arts. Countless others have discovered a hobby that will make happy the leisure hours to come in the future.

Jim Welly and Bill Wells are setting the type for tickets to the Sophomore Dance.

Mr. Martin's Typing I class tries for 45 words a minute during a five-minute drill.

The courses in the Business Education Department are designed to give information which will help every individual handle his personal business affairs; and to give training in some basic skills which will help an individual earn his living in business or supplement his income while he is making preparation for some other vocation or profession.

Business and economic conditions change so rapidly and so radically that no one can predict with certainty what the opportunities or needs for employment will be in the future. Those taking these courses find it necessary to get as broad a foundation as possible and then to learn one or two fundamental skills which can be "marketed."

Those planning to work in the business world know, that there are a number of personal qualifications necessary for success. Among these are accuracy, dependability, a good attendance record, the ability to get along with others, personal appearance, courtesy, and loyalty.

This department continually stresses these important personal assets.

This Department's

These seniors, Audrey Hawblitzel, Susan LaCluyse, Marilee Moe, and Joyce Lugar master the calculators and comptometers. They are in the office practice class, from which girls are assigned to business offices for experience during their last semester at Riley.

Sheryl Royer seems intent on taking dictation from a Dictaphone Machine.

DeMaris Knisley, a member of Business Communications class, demonstrates the correct position and techniques in handling a telephone call. Here's To Your Health!

Our nurse Mrs. Cashman, right, and her assistant, Miss Koscielski keep a sharp eye on the health of Riley students.

More than twenty students find it necessary to visit the nurses' office each day. Some of these cases are serious while others are mild, but everyone depends on Mrs. Cashman, and Miss Koscielski for any help they should need.

Our nurses also give hearing and TB tests. They weigh and measure all students at certain grade levels, and they keep a complete health record of every student in school. This record starts when the student enters kindergarten and continues all the way through high school.

All gym excuses, dental and doctor appointments must be cleared through the nurse's office. Her excuses are valued ones, for with them there is no time to be made up.

This only proves how brave Ann Millar and Judy Laughlin were, receiving their tests from the ladies of the TB league.

Teens Keep Trim

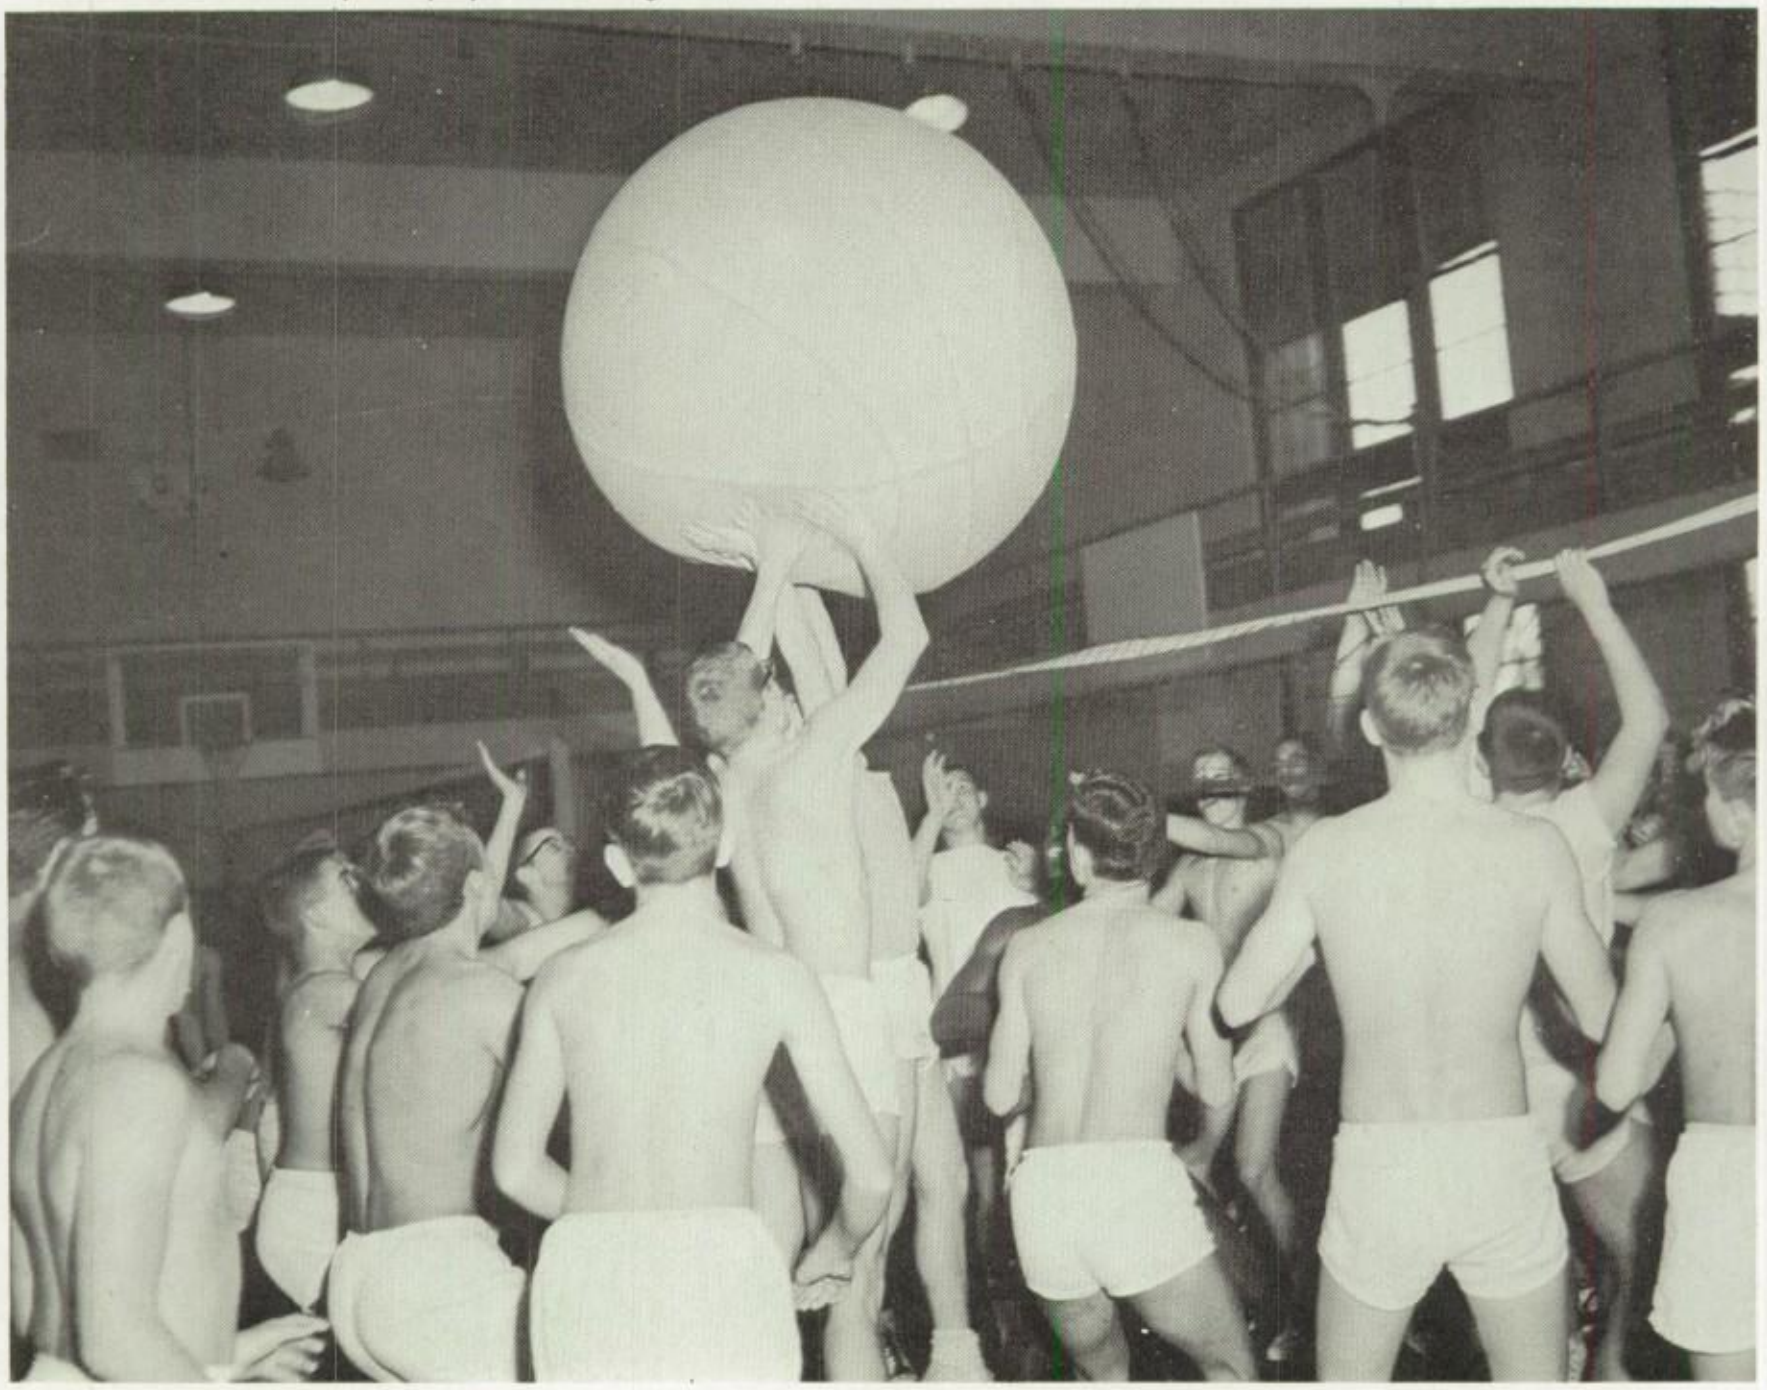
In addition to Riley's complete course in Health as taught by Mr. Parker, considerable emphasis is placed on physical fitness through our gym classes.

In the junior high school everyone goes to gym classes at least five hours a week. These are decreased as the students grow older, and have acquired the knowledge that proper exercise is a daily requisite for physical fitness.

Riley's gym program helps students conserve and improve their health, fosters wholesome activities on a year-round program, and develops skills and abilities to the point that the student enjoys taking part in games and recreation.

Our gym teachers take a break in their busy schedule Standing: Miss Wolfe and Mr. Rzeszewski. Sitting: Mr. Horvath and Miss Lauer.

It seems like the boys in gym class look forward each semester to the week they can play with the cage ball.



Miss Snoke's Community Civics class had an informal way in discussing problems in Juvenile Delinquency. Christine Burglund is leading the discussion.

Literally speaking, here is a department that is as old as the ages. It may be History to you, all starting with the ancients at 5,000 B. C., but to these teachers it's a job of explaining and interpreting a story of human events that is vital and alive even though it is recorded in a dead and distant past.

Too, this department is charged with instructing you in the various forms and duties of government. Though you may never be a politician, if you fail to exercise your right to vote in future years don't let these teachers know it. And if you are not interested in politics, open to you is Economics or Sociology where you receive broad experience in writing term papers, as well as knowledge in human behavior.

These Girls Know

If you are happily married to a Riley girl ten years from now and your home is the model of efficiency, the fond wife probably chose subjects in Home Economics from Miss Frueh, Miss Sellars, and Miss McAlpine. These people should receive a vote of eternal thanks.

Their popularity with the girls is attested by the large number who elect their classes. As for results, just visit a foods class when they are preparing a tasty meal or go to a clothing class and watch them cut, sew, and model an attractive dress.

The teachers in Home Economics always have a lot in common. Miss Sellars and Miss McAlpine are seated. Miss Frueh is standing.

Peggy Thoma, Lois Jarvis, and Martha Kimberle hope the meat loaf will turn out as tasty as the book said it would.

Brenda Morten has the honor of serving at an advanced foods class tea. Nancy Sheldon samples the delicious punch while Vilma, Phyllis, Carol, Sue and Jean wait eagerly.

Linda Roushling catches admiring glances from her classmates as she models the jumper made in advanced clothing class.

Color guards Marc Hosterman, Lanny Nelson, Jerry Walker, and Bill Behrenbruck seem solemnly intent on their marching as they led the Wildcat Band in the Miami Street Merchant's Parade.

Make A Note Of This!

These girls in the violin section provided fitting music for the National Honor Society Assembly.

Music, in its variety of forms, is one of the vital forces in the life of an adult and a community. It appeals to all classes and is indispensable in the home, the church, and the school. Music of the right sort offers a wholesome outlet for the emotions of joy, grief, patriotism, and religion. Musical training has an inestimable value as a medium to aid in developing the worthy use of leisure time.

The courses offered by the Music Department aim to develop good taste, to instill a genuine love and fine sensitiveness in the world of music, and to develop musical talents to the best of the student's ability. Those having unusual talent are encouraged to choose a career in the field of music.

Rehearsals like this, directed by Miss Guilliams, are essential to the fine performances given by our glee club.

Professor Newell Long was guest conductor of one of the band rehearsals. Mr. Long is with the Department of Music Education of Indiana University.

When you hear music in the air at Riley, you can be sure one of these four teachers had a hand in putting it there. Left to right: Mr. Kottlowski, orchestra director; Mr. Habegger, band director; Mr. Omstead, assistant band director; Mrs. McMillan, Junior High music; Miss Guilliams, Senior High music and Glee Club director.

Math may have been a subject you avoided as much as possible. If so, we contend you missed some capable and valuable instruction. For in what subjects can you better learn the art of logical thinking?

Someone once said that Einstein made up math problems he could not later work himself. It's too bad he did not know the members of this department. They could have even shown him some shortcuts. This department provides the mathematics necessary for graduation, as well as that required for entrance to any college. Among these are four semesters of algebra, three of geometry, and one of trigonometry. In the last five years, however, some changes have been made to meet the new demands for mathematical manpower in our society; and some others will be made in the coming years.

Give It The Gas

Come wind or rain, sleet, fog or snow, classes in Driver's Training must go on. Students learn to handle a car under all driving conditions. Above, Cecelia Duncan, Norman Hruska, Mike Hosinski, and Ron Yoder inspect the motor of their Lark under the eyes of Mr. Whitmer, who instructs the morning classes. Mr. Meyer conducts the afternoon classes. This semester 85 students are in these classes.

Book-Worming Allowed

The library, the center for the instructional materials in our school, is not just a repository for books as was the school library of ancient days. It has books, of course, about 10,000 of them, and acquires more each year. It also has other library materials—maps, charts, globes, pictures, newspapers and pamphlets, but more important, it puts these materials to work. That is the final test of a library—the use that is made of its materials by students, teachers, and parents.

In addition to the standard reference works, fiction and non-fiction books, many periodicals are purchased in general and specialized fields. By means of these students keep abreast of current history and the rapid changes that science, invention and engineering are bringing about; changes which affect our daily lives and the economy in which students will have to find their places.

The library program at Riley is designed not only to supplement and enrich subject matter, but to introduce students to our great literary heritage, and to teach them the techniques for locating materials on subjects that interest them.

Miss Josehpson and Mrs. Leatherman direct one of the finest libraries in the city. Miss Josephson is head librarian.

The library is the busiest spot in the school at 3:15 P.M., when nearly everyone wants to check out overnight books.

Riley again went through a winless season. A football team cannot always be judged by its won and lost record. This Riley team had spirit, courage, and enthusiastic student backing. These are what make a successful team in any sport, not the won and lost column.

Improvement over the previous season also marks a successful team. Riley did not improve in the won and lost column, but it did improve in the spirit and fight of the team. Student enthusiasm and support of the team hit a high peak this year. These improvements mark a successful team, not its record.

Riley excelled in two games last season. They scored their first touchdown on October 2, 1959 in the St. Joe game. The Wildcats dominated play throughout the second half, but an untimely fumble proved costly to the Riley cause in losing the game, 20-7. On October 17, 1959 Riley scared the conference title hopes of the Adams Eagles. Riley, on a spectacular passing play from quarterback Bob Foor to halfback John MacDonald, scored early in the third quarter. But the conversion was wide and the Eagles eeked out a hard earned victory over the 'Cats, 7-6.

All and all it was a successful season for the 1959 version of Riley Football.

Cats Take Holiday Tourney

The coaches review films of opposing teams before the sectional games. Seated: Mr. Rzeszewski, head coach. Standing: Mr. Simpson, Junior High Coach, Mr. Lewandowski, 9th Grade Coach, Mr. Barnbrook, B Team Coach.

The Riley basketball team finished this season with the same record as it had last year, winning nine and losing eleven both years. Although the records of the teams are the same, this year's squad had more fight, speed, and much better backing by the student body.

There were several games that were quite close. We lost to Central by four points, 72-68, and to Adams by two, 62-60. If luck had been in our direction, those games could have gone our way, and we would have had our first winning season in several years.

The bright spot in the season this year was the winning of the Holiday Tourney at Adams. The Wildcats went into the tourney as the favorite, and the team finished as predicted. In the first round, the Cats defeated St. Joe, and in the championship game, they won over Penn. It was the second year in a row that Riley took the crown.

The future looks bright. The B-Team had a fine record, and the Freshman and 7th-8th grade squads are loaded with promising boys. Riley should again be a potent team in the conference. This year we finished last, but the Wildcats turn is coming.

B-Team Has Fine Season

Riley's future in basketball appears to be bright, due to the well-seasoned B team players who will make the varsity. The B-team record of 11-8 shows that next seasons' varsity squad will be loaded with potential.

Due to the fine coaching of Mr. Barnbrook, the team posted fine showings throughout the season. Particularly pleasing to the coach were victories over Central (49-40), Adams (30-28), as well as 2 out of 3 over Washington, and one from St. Joe.

When asked how he felt about coaching this club, Mr. Barnbrook commented, "They were good between the ears and took advantage of opponents' weaknesses. They seemed to be able to size up situations on the floor quickly and work together smoothly to gain every advantage they could seize."

The underclassmen can be justly proud of the fine work of their classmates and can look forward to next year with great expectations.

BASEBALL

Doug Simpson took over the reins of the Riley baseball team in 1959 and led the Cats through a colorful season. Although the team failed to equal the previous season's mark, the splinter swingers gave their new coach an enviable record. The squad began the season in poor fashion, dropping their first six contests.

But when Riley traveled to Culver Military Academy and swept a thrilling double-header 8-6 and 10-6, they proved to themselves their potential. Led by the timely hitting of Jerry Lerman, Eugene Davis, and Danny Graeber the steady pitching of George Vanderheyden, Hal Widener, and Dave Gleason, the team finished second in the city tournament and closed the season with a four and four conference record.

With some fine players coming up from the B squad, Coach Simpson hopes to put a strong team on the diamond in 1960.

TENNIS TEAM SPLITS SEASON!

TENNIS

Although the 'Cat Tennis team split the season in '59, they failed to live up to expectations. Rated to be the powerhouse in the conference, the netters could not seem to plant their feet firmly on the winning path.

Under coach Bosco Sarenac the squad started the season in fine fashion with successive wins over La-Porte, Adams, and Central. They temporarily slackened their pace and dropped dual meets to Goshen and Elkhart. In bouncing back to whip Mishawaka, the team looked as though they might had finally lived up to expectations, erratic play led to defeat at the hands of of Michigan City and Fort Wayne.

The graduation of Tim Chapman and Bob Vukovich, two mainstays of the team, will be keenly felt. But due to youth on the B squad, Riley will once again get the nod as a conference contender.

CROSS COUNTRY

The Wildcat Harriers had quite a successful season in the fall of '59. In spite of an opening loss to Mishawaka, the cross country team finished with a fine ten and seven record. Led by Captain Joe Nace, the runners proved themselves a team to be reckoned with.

There were several outstanding performances for Riley throughout the season. In the Elkhart relays the sprinters placed fourth. The City meet brought much prestige to Riley as the squad was successful in downing their competing city foes for a first place finish. After finishing fourth in the Sectional meet, the 'Cats went on to a respectable eighteenth place in the State.

Coach Paul Frazier expects to put a strong squad of runners on the field next Fall, as the B Team is filled with boys who possess courage and ability.

The future looks bright since only three boys, Art and Arden Floran along with Leon Copeland, will be lost through graduation.

Page goes up and over with the greatest of ease.

Coach Paul Frazier's track team had a disappointing season. The trackmen won only two dual meets, winning over Plymouth and Adams. Victory is always sweet when we beat Adams, and the team did a good job in beating the Eagles by more than eighteen points. The team finished sixth in the ENIHSC meet and third in the city meet. As you can see, the record of the track team is not one of envy. But the most important thing is improvement. Riley's trackmen's spirit improved throughout the season. Along with this spirit came experience.

Last season was one of learning and experience. The trackmen gained knowledge in both departments. Next season will be one of a different nature; the team has learned, and it will pay dividends.

Riley's swimming team at times during the season showed the polish and class of champions. At other times, however, the tankers couldn't seem to work as a team, which the season's record of 7-7 showed.

Led by John and Dave Buchanan, the Wildcats downed such worthy opponents as Whiting 54-32, Gary Froebel 63-27, Horace Mann 57-36, and Lew Wallace 64-29. Also riding the waves behind the swimmers were Laporte, Penn, and Washington.

John and Dave Buchanan were voted into the 1959 High School "All American" team. John finished second in the state swim meet in the 100 yard butterfly and captured a first in the conference meet. Dave took a first in the 100 yard backstroke and second in the 200 yard individual medley at the state meet. Dave also captured the conference title in these events.

The future indicates that the coach will probably receive a few victory dunkings, as Tom Jewell and John Buchanan will be the only boys lost through graduation.

WRESTLING '60

The 1959-1960 edition of wrestling at Riley proved to be very successful. Led by two fine seniors, Arthur and Arden Floran, the mat cats posted an overall 6-4 record.

The Cats opened the season against Mishawaka and blitzed the Maroons 60-0. This score is the highest that can be accumulated in a dual meet. Riley won its next two meets before being halted by an Elkhart team. Central and Niles also halted the Cat's rampage. Next to feel the potency of Riley were Penn and Washington-Clay. The cats closed the season by losing to Adams in a very close struggle.

The graduation of the Florans along with three other seniors should make next season a challenge for coach Joe Wojtys and his returning veterans.

Stone tries for a putt, as Peterson and Hawley watch. Coach Shafer is holding the pin.

VARSITY GOLF

The Riley Golf Team had a successful season as far as the won and lost record was concerned. The Cat's thought they should have done better because they had the potential to win the state title. They didn't miss the title by much though as they finished fifth in the championship meet in Indianapolis.

The team had a slow start losing three out of the first five matches. However, they gained from experience and ended the season with an eight and four record. Elkhart and LaPorte were the only teams that beat Riley, as they won over Riley in both matches.

This was Mr. Shafer's last year as coach of the golf team. He called this team the best balanced he has coached in his twenty years.

Ray,
Remember me?
That little girl
you used to play chess with? but (I'm not so little) now!

Karen McFall
Nappanee, Indiana

Good Luck in all you do. Maybe we can get together sometime
Chuck McFall

Ray-
Best Gluck in what ever you may do.
Always remember our good times and Stay as sweet as you are. May you have very but success through the years. May we always be friends.
Adonis
Hoelscher

Good Wishes
Bonnie
